Scope & Engagement

ADR Advisory will provide taxation services relating to the preparation and lodgement of your individual income tax return. The tax return and any associated working papers will be based on information and explanations provided by you. We will not undertake an audit of the transactions underpinning such documents (including accounting records and information), nor will we verify the appropriateness of allocations made by you in those records.

Generally the responsibility for the accuracy of a tax return is with the taxpayer. However, where you provide us with all relevant information, you may not be liable for an administrative penalty for a false or misleading statement in a return that results from us failing to take reasonable care with respect to that return. The income tax return will be prepared for the purpose of complying with Australian income tax law. There is no assumption of responsibility for any reliance on our work by any person or entity other than yourself and the Australian Taxation Office. The income tax return shall not be inferred or used for any purpose other than for which it was specifically prepared. This questionnaire is a tool used to assist in the preparation of the individual income tax return, any questions not answered are assumed not to be applicable to your circumstances for tax purposes.

Your Responsibilities

- a) Review documents we prepare for you carefully and let us know if anything does not appear to be accurate or complete.
- b) Sign and return to us promptly any tax returns or other forms we have agreed to lodge for you as part of our services, so we can lodge them on time. Otherwise, the relevant authority may charge you with penalties and interest.
- c) Take reasonable care to meet your obligations under tax and revenue laws, including keeping records required by those laws.

Record Keeping

For income tax purposes, generally, you must keep all relevant tax records (in a format that will enable your taxation liability to be readily ascertained) for five years after those records were prepared or obtained, or five years after the completion of the transactions or acts to which the records relate, whichever is the later. This period may be extended in certain circumstances. For CGT, you not only need to retain records for five years from the date of a CGT event (irrespective of the fact that the event may not of itself cause a gain or loss at that time) but also for a period up to five years after any subsequent CGT event where the first event is relevant in determining whether a gain or loss arises from the subsequent event. You will also need to keep those records to substantiate any carry-forward capital loss which is applied to a future capital gain. Where you are required to maintain records under a tax or revenue law and fail to do so, penalties may be imposed.

Electronic communications

We each agree to take reasonable precautions to protect our own information technology systems, including implementing reasonable procedures to guard against viruses and unauthorised interception, access, use, corruption, loss or delay of electronic communications.

Subcontractors

We may use subcontractors, (in Australia or overseas) to perform or assist us to perform the services. Despite this, we remain solely responsible for the services. You consent to information provided to us by you or on your behalf (including personal information and your confidential information) being transferred to those contractors and suppliers so long as they are bound by confidentiality obligations.

Fees and Payment

The fee will start at $ 160 plus GST per individual tax return and will not increase by more than the standard 5% per annum unless your circumstances have changed since the last tax return prepared, or you have requested services in addition to the previous year requirements in which case the fee will be more. An invoice will be raised and included with your completed income tax return. This invoice must be paid to proceed with lodgement of your tax return. We do not take any responsibility for late fees or penalties incurred as a result of you not paying your invoice on time and your return not being lodged by the due date as a result. If you are an individual directly associated to an entity in which we are the tax agent then the payment terms on that engagement will apply to you.

Limitation of Liability

Our liability is limited by a scheme approved under Professional Standards Legislation. Further information on the scheme is available from the Professional Standards Councils' website:
<http://www.professionalstandardscouncil.gov.au>.

Ownership of documents

All original documents obtained from you for the engagement shall remain your property. However, we reserve the right to make a reasonable number of copies of the original documents for our records to satisfy quality assurance requirements. Our engagement will result in the production of an individual income tax return. Ownership of these documents will vest in you. All other documents produced by us in respect of this engagement will remain the property of ADR Advisory. The firm has a policy of exploring a legal right of lien over any client documents in our possession in the event of a dispute.

Acceptance

ADR ADVISORY is hereby authorised to communicate with my bankers, solicitors, finance companies and all government agencies such as the ATO to obtain information as required to carry out the above engagement. By signing this engagement I confirm that I have read and accept the terms and conditions of the engagement and that this agreement will be effective for future years unless I am advised of any change.
